POWERS' Ambrotype, Photograph

From the London American.

The reflecting men of England are con-centrating their thoughts on the American question; all classes discuss it, and is the general theme of conversation wherever then, does England find food for sympathy men gather together. Each newspaper has its leaders, and each member of Parliament has his fling at the "bubble bursting republic of the west." At a dinner given by Henry Wood, Esq., the large anchor and chain manufacturer of Birkenhead, at the Westminister Palace Hotel, this all-absorbing subject, the American question, was the feature of the entertainment. Our consul, Mr. Morse, made an eloquent speech. Mr. Bell, the builder of the Warrior, Mr. Gladstone, and a distinguished gentleman from Georgia, who recently left that state for his Union sentiments, and several other gantlemen joined in the animated debate between the English, the Scotch and the Americans. Mr. George Francis Train, whose strong Union sentiments have so often been recorded in these columns, created some excitement by his affack on England's unmanly course in this rebellion, and some of his strictures were emphatically denied by some of the gentleman present—the chairman especially—who asserted that he knew there was the most friendly feeling in this country towards America. Some extracts from Mr. Train's speech will show the warmth of this debate.

Mr. Chairman-You are an old friend of mine, and knowing me so well, I am surprised that you call me up on street railways when the American question is on the table. (Hear.) I admit I am good for a speech on that or any other topic, but tonight I intend to sink the shop and talk the senate chamber-suffice it to know that my success is complete. I have run the gaunt let, with all kinds of weapons aimed at me, but have passed the Manassas Gap of English conservatism and introduced a carriage for the people-(cheers)-with colors flying and lots of money still in the treasury. (Hear and laughter.) But no more of that, let me talk on America. I thank you, Mr. Wood, and you, gentlemen, for your good wishes for peace, but we want no peace. You say England is with us; I know that she is against us, and has been from the first. (No, no.) I say yes, yesand the question is, how much plain talk-in can you stand from a man who loves his wife, his children and his God, but who loves his country more than all-(loud cheers)-for a man without a country is unworthy of wife and children, and poor God forsaken devil, he had better die-(hear, hear)-and this, gentlemen, is what

England has recommended. (No.) England's neutrality has already cost five thousand lives. She has made a great mistake, and three months bence she will acknowledge it. Will you let me speak my mind? (Yes.) Now, I beg of you, gen Pease's Block, - - Main Street, to m, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of tlemen, not to get excited when I tell you a few startling facts to prove how unwise. how ungenerous, how dangerous has been England's so-called neutrality on the American question.

Eugland's sympathies are with, and have been with the south, not out of hate to the north, but because she wished to see us break in two. [No.] When a man is very ill it is to say the least of it, had taste to go and order all your mourning, for perhaphe may get well again, and how suprised he would be to see the notices of his death which were prepared. England's neutrality consists in standing on the platform and cheering the rebels on. Read the secession organs of the country. Secession organs, did I say? There are no others save the Daily News, the Star, the Liverpool Post, and two or three more journals-the rest all have flags flying and cannons booming to stimulate treason on to murder. The press leads the way. The cabinet would declare war at once if it dared; and I am not sure but what the Mexican intervention is war'in disguise. Read the speeches of members of parliament to their constitu ents. You find them secession to the back bone. Is there any question about Lindsay's language, or Captain Jarvis, or Bulwer Lytton? I like Bulwer for his frankness and his honesty. He is no hypocrite. He talks as he thinks, and says, he hopes the country will not only break up in two but four pieces! It is already too powerful, and its growth should be checked .--England's neutrality consists in giving all her sympathy to the rebels. Suppose you and I, Mr. Chairman, were friends of forty years acquaintance, and some night on the highway a burglar tries to assassinate you after having stolen your money, would you not think it almost out of the pale of humanity in this civilized age to have me remain neutral? or, what is worse, to hear me cheer the thief on in his bloody work? (Chairman-It is not a fair analogy.)-Analogy or not, that is England's position to-day toward America. (No, no.) Lie many months you may have revolution in this garden island-the revolution that arises from a starving population—for is there not unmistakable signs of a corn famine in Ireland, and a cotton famine in England? Suppose such to happen, and class should be arrayed against class, would you not think it damnable for America to join the rebels, and cry lustily for the des-is continuing to cry for America's rain .-Hear, hear, and no.) friend. (Hear, and true.) Every act of hostility has emanated from that quarter. Look along our history's page. What wathe pon intercourse act previous to the last war but a southern institution? Was not the embago act and the war of 1812, itself a southern institution? The whole north was against it, and the Hartford conventionites, to this day, are subjects of derision by the southerners for the sympathy New England showed for Old England. (Hear and cheers.) five cents a yard duty on cotton, of 1816, but a southern institution? All New England voted against Mr. Calhoun's American | occasionti. system. It was the same in 1820 and 1824; but the south having passed their high tariff, against Cuba but southern institutions?--Where did Lopez hail from? where Walker? Where did Lynch law, the Bowie knife, and the duelist or originate but in the south? Is not repudiation purely a south ern institution? Who was it that showed their sympathics against England in the Russian war but the entire democratic par-Russian war but the entire democratic par-English Austence-Bold and Timely Speech.

Russian war but the entire democratic par-ty, which for forty years has been a south-ern institution? The whigs were with Eng land, but the democrats cheered the STANDARD MACHINES, Russian arms. These are all southern institutions, and certainly negro slavery is not an institution of the north. Where, with the damned traitors in this hell-born conspiracy? Was it the north or south who sent the contributions to Ireland in their distress? [Hear, hear.] Was it the north or south who put the flags at half-mast on the death of Havelock? [cheers] and tell me, gentlemen, who received the son of your Queen with open arms, but the proud children of our northern country? Boiling over | No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly with good will to England, we took the Prince and embraced him, because we loved this old land and its mighty associations. [Cheers.] We loved to mix our history and lose it even in yours. [Cheers.] We loved your Christian Queen, and showed all these things in the warm and honest reception we gave her son. [Loud cheers.] All this was in the north, but when he crossed the border into the slave country, he hastened away quickly for fear of repeated insult! Yes, gentlemen, it was in the capital of the so-called confederate states, Richmond, that the Prince of Wales feared the action of the mob, and saw for the first time that he upilic tion for maintaining purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy the mob, and saw for the first time that he ancestors ruled. [Hear, and true.] Knowing, then, that all these acts of violence and hostility against England came from the south, you can imagine the disgust of the south, you can imagine the disgust of the north in reading the Times day after day, and the Telegraph, the Herald, the Chronicle, and nearly all the entire British press, encouraging the rebels on in their unchristian work! England has made a mistake—

a fatal mistake. To make sure that I am another the sure machines work as fast a fatal mistake." To make sure that I am not in the wrong, I am preparing a book of as small ones. opinions of the press—extracts from speech-es of members of parliament and the min-

DAILY GAZETTE.

From the London American. A Wide Awake American Before an English Audience-Bold and Timely Speech.

The reflecting men of England are con-centrating their thoughts on the American question; all classes discuss it, and is the general theme of conversation wherever general theme of conversation wherever men gather together. Each newspaper has its leaders, and each member of Parliament has his fling at the "bubble bursting republic of the west." At a dinner given by Henry Wood, Esq., the large auchor and chain manufacturer of Birkenhead, at the Westminister Palace Hotel, this all absorbing subject the American question was ing subject, the American question, was the feature of the entertainment. Our consul, Mr. Morse, made an eloquent speech. Mr. Bell, the builder of the Warrior, Mr. Gladstone, and a distinguished gentleman from Georgia, who recently left that state for his Union sentiments, and several other to be found in market. Together with a full and varied stock of

Mr. George Francis Train, whose strong Union sentiments, and several other particular and the Americans. some excitement by his attack on England's unmanly course in this rebellion, and some of his strictures were emphatically denied by some of the gentleman present—the chairman especially—who asserted that he knew there was the most friendly feeling in this country towards America. Some extracts from Mr. Train's speech will show the warmth of this debate.

Mr. Chairman—You are an old friend of

Mr. Chairman—You are an old friend of mine, and knowing me so well, I am surprised that you call me up on street railways when the American question is on the table. (Hear.) I admit I am good for a speech on that or any other topic, but tonight I intend to sink the shop and talk the senate chamber—suffice it to know that my senate chamber—suffice it to know that my success is complete. I have run the gaunt-let, with all kinds of weapons aimed at me, but have passed the Manassas Gap of me, but have passed the Manassas Gap of English conservatism and introduced a carriage for the people—(cheers)—with colors flying and lots of money still in the treasury. (Hear and laughter.) But no more of that, let me talk on America. I thank you, Mr. Wood, and you, gentlemen, for your good wishes for peace, but we want no peace. You say Englund is with us; I know that she is against us, and has been no peace. You say England is with us; I know that she is against us, and has been from the first. (No, no.) I say yes, yes—and the question is, how much plain talk-ing can you stand from a man who loves his wife, his children and his God, but who loves his country more than all—fleud cheeral—for a man without a country is loves his country more than all—(leud cheers)—for a man without a country is unworthy of wife and children, and poor God forsaken devil, he had better die—(hear, hear)—and this, gentlemen, is what England has recommended. (No.)
England's neutrality has already cost five thousand lives. She has made a great mis-

England's neutrality has already cost five thousand lives. She has made a great mistake, and three months hence she will acknowledge it. Will you let me speak my mind? (Yes.) Now, I beg of you, gentlemen, not to get excited when I tell you four starting foots to proceed here unwited. a few startling facts to prove how unwise, how ungenerous, how dangerous has been England's so-called neutrality on the American question.

England's sympathies are with, and have been with the south, not out of hate to the north, but because she wished to see us break in two. [No.] When a man is very ill it is to say the least of it, had taste to go and order all your mourning, for perhaps he may get well again, and how suprised he would be to see the notices of his death which were prepared. which were prepared. England's neutrality consists in standing on the platform and I A T O R C A P

C H E A D C A P Daily News, the Star, the Liverpool Fost, and two or three more journals—the rest all have flags flying and cannons booming to stimulate treason on to murder. The press leads the way. The cabinet would declare war at once if it dared; and I am not sure but what the Mexican intervention. not sure but what the Mexican intervention is war in disguise. Read the speeches of members of parliament to their constitu-ents. You find them secession to the backbone. Is there any question about Lind-say's language, or Captain Jarvis, or Bul-wer Lytton? I like Bulwer for his frankness and his honesty. He is no hypocrite. He talks as he thinks, and says, he hopes the country will not only break up in two but four pieces! It is already too powerful, and its frowth should be checked.
England's neutrality consists in giving all her sympathy to the rebels. Suppose you and I, Mr. Chairman, were friends of forty years acquaintance, and some night on the highway a burglar tries to assassinate you after having stolen your money, would you not think it almost out of the pale of humost think it almost out of the pale of numanity in this civilized age to have me remain neutral? or, what is worse, to hear me cheer the thief on in his bloody work? (Chairman—It is not a fair analogy.)— Analogy or not, that is England's position to-day toward America. (No. Ec.) Ere many months you may have revolution in this garden island—the revolution that arises from a starving population—for is there not unmistakable signs of a corn famine in Ireland, and a cotton famine in England? Suppose such to happen, and class should be arrayed against class, would you not think it damnable for America to join the rebels, and cry lustily for the des truction of this proud nation, as England is continuing to cry for America's ruin:-Hear, hear, and no.) Hear are the facts I wish to make known The south has always been the enemy of England, as the north has been her friend friend. (Hear, and true.) Every act of hostility has emanated from that quarter. Look along our history's page. What was the non-intercourse at previous to the less than the property of the less than the second transfer of the s the pon intercourse act previous to the last war but a southern institution? Was not the embago act and the war of 1812, itself a southern institution? The whole north was against it, and the Hartford conventionites, to this day, are subjects of derision by the southerners for the sympathy New England showed for Old England. (Hear and cheers.) What was the high tariff act, the twenty-five cents a yard duty on cotton, of 1816, but a southern institution? All New England voted against Mr. Calhoun's American system. It was the same in 1820 and 1824; but the south having passed their high tariff, the north showed its enterprise by putting the north showed its enterprise by putting up cotton mills, and it was not for some years after (1828) that the north voted for protection. Then Mr. Calhoun, in 1832, wanted to kill the bautling he had created in 1816, and because he could not succeed, started his heli-born nullification cry, which was so summarily stopped by General Jackson. What was the Mexican war but a southern institution to get new slave lands?

Where did Lopez hail from? where Walker? Where did Lynch law, the Bowie knife, and the duelist or originate but in the south? Is not repudiation purely a southern institution? Who was it that showed their appropriate their appropriate their appropriate their appropriate in the south of their appropriate their appropriate in the south of the south of their appropriate in the south of the south of their appropriate in the south of the south of their appropriate in the south of their appropriate in the south of the south of the south of the south of the south ern institution? Who was it that showed their sympathies against England in the Russian war but the entire democratic party, which for forty years has been a southern institution? The whigs were with England, but the democrats cheered the Russian arms. These are all southern institutions, and certainly negro slavery is not an institution of the north. Where, then, does England find food for sympathy with the damned traitors in this hell-horn conspiracy? Was it the north or south who sent the contributions to Ireland in their distress? [Hear, hear.] Was it the north or south who put the flags at half-mast on the death of Havelock? [cheers] and tell ine, gentlemen, who received the son of your Queen with open arms, but the proud child-Queen with open arms, but the proud child-ren of our northern country? Boiling over with good will to England, we took the Prince and embraced him, because we loved this old land and its mighty associations. [Cheers.] We loved to mix our history and lose it even in yours. [Cheers.] We loved your Christian Queen, and showed all these things in the warm and honest reception we gave her son. [Loud cheers.] All this was in the north, but when he crossed the border into the slave country, he hastened [Hemmer,] and beautifully evaluation of the slave country.] away quickly for fear of repeated insult!
Yes, gentlemen, it was in the capital of the so-ealled confederate states, Richmond, that the Prince of Wales faired the action of the mob, and saw for the first time that he was not welcome in the land where once his ancestors ruled. [Hear, and true.] Knowing, then, that all these acts of violence and bestilite against hostility against England came from the south, you can imagine the disgust of the south, you can imagine the disgust of the north in reading the Times day after duy, and the Telegraph, the Herald, the Chronicle, and nearly all the entire British press, encouraging the rebels on in their unchristian work! England has made a mistake—a fatal mistake. To make sure that I am not in the wrong, I am preparing a book of opinions of the press-extracts from speech-

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in initiation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron custing to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliquees. It is only by doing a great host-most, and having extensive manufacturing establishmonts, that good muchines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly finde, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: cartainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, year distribution, and are ability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but least long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will carn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

The War in Missonri. There seems, as yet, to be some doubt whether Price and McCulloch are returning in force towards the Missouri river, or whether their army has broken up into squads, and are making their way back to their old ground near Lexington, to be "reconstructed." It is a fact, however, that cannot admit of doubt, that large numbers of rebels have appeared at various points north of Springfield, since the retreat of our army under the orders of Gen. Hunter. The policy of such a movement in Missouri has not been explained or defended. The press has had very little to say about it. Those who made fierce war upon Fremont for his alleged incapacity, appear to be nonplussed by the strange proceedings of the new generals; while his friends are not disposed to criticise very severely what appears unaccountable. It is not necessa sary-the public is looking on calmly and intelligently, and we hope will come to an impartial conclusion. It cannot be doubted that at present the secessionists have the advantage; and if they are permitted to spend the winter in Missouri, eating out the substance of the Union men, and destroying what they cannot otherwise consume, they will have secured so strong a position that it will be difficult to dislodge them .-The example of our conduct towards the Union people of Missouri must have a disheartening effect everywhere in the south, and injure our cause immensely. If we go among them merely to induce them to take sides with us, and then abandon them, i would be far better that our armies should remain at home.

The new general, Halleck, has issued some new orders which appear to be a little too conservative—they seem to tie up more tightly the hands of our troops in their dealings with traitors, than is necessary. If a prisoner is arrested and sent to St. Louis, a written statement is required of the charges against him, and the evidence on which the arrest was based; otherwise the officer making the arrest will be charged with the expenses of his transportation. The following are the orders in relation to the seizure of private property: or affording aid and assistance to the enemy. "2d. Where it becomes necessary to take private property for the former purpose, intelligent and responsible officers will be detailed for the purpose, who will take an ac. have winter, for it snows neurate account of the property so taken, and the appearance of a storm. give receipts therefor. All such property must be duly returned and accounted for, and the authority for the seizure must be stated in the receipts and returns. Any unauthorized and unnecessary seizure or deed with the extreme penalty imposed by the laws of war, which is death.

"The seizure and conversion of the private property of an enemy (where not required for immediate supplies, as provided in the foregoing paragraph) is justifiable only in particular cases, provided for by the the United States, and the general laws of war, and should never be made except by the orders of the officer highest in | least preparations for staying here, and I command, who will be held accountable for the exercise of this power. Great caution should be used in this matter, as much injustice has been done to individuals who are not enemies, and much discredit cast upon our patriotic army by excesses committed by unauthorized persons pretending to act in the name of the United States. All prop erty taken from alleged enemies must be in ventoried and duly accounted for.

"Any person violating these rules wil be immediately arrested and reported to last been obliged to conclude that the soldiers knows not what a day may bring forth. Our future destiny is the most important topic here now-a-days; one day we are going to Fortress Monroe-the next to Port Royal—the next into winter quarters here -the fourth to march on Manassas: but when the time for us to move comes, we find the different rumors all without foundation, and the same endless routine of reviews and drills the order of the day. We are doing but little now but drill in the skirmish drill-in brigade drill-division drill -go on picket, camp, brigade and division guard. We were reviewed by Gen. Mc-Ciellan, President Lincoln and staff on the 20th inst., at Bailev's Cross Roads, near Munson's Hill. It was a grand review, the largest ever made in the United States .--There were about 90 regiments of infantry, besides large bodies of cavalry and artillery. No passes were required to enable persons to come from the other side of the river to witness the review, and the high lands in the vicinity of the field was crowded with and Surgeon Alexander and one of our vehicles of every description from Washington, Georgetown, Alexandria and other places, filled with wondering spectators; every stump, log, tree, and stone had its fill of occupants, who were determined to see the sights of the day. The day was cool and pleasant, and the Fifth, as usual, won the honors of the day. The General was overheard to say, when it marched past him, that such marching could not be excelled in the whole army. The men were foot-sore and weary at the time of the review, having marched some eight miles that morning with knapsack and arms on, and a large share of that distance on "double quick" over wet and slippery roads, but the boys call him) they put the best foot The report is doubtful. forward: they determined to win, and they did. Our division was reviewed day before yesterday by General Smith, and he expressed himself well pleased with the appearance of the men. Mrs. McClellan was on the ground and witnessed to review.

The excessive caution used in these orders, in relation to the property of rebels, will almost entirely prevent its seizure .-Red tape is a good thing in small quantities, but when there is more of it than necessary, it degenerates into imbegility. It is especially a poor article to use in a war against the unscrupulous rebels and villains who now infest Missouri.

The health of the men is universally good -the sick are getting better, and could we have three weeks as good weather as we have had for the last three, there would be but a few sick in camp; but judging from the aspect of the weather we are going to is reported that the privateer Sumpter was have winter, for it snows now and has all

Our first successful fireplace was built by the lieutenants of our company, Lieut. Shepard being the genius who formed and carried the plan into execution. And could ly the supposition is that the batteries open- you "pop in " some evening and see how cozy they were sitting by the pleasant fire cracking jokes, you would readily come to the conclusion, with us, that "we'll be free and happy still." Since their fireplace has been built, it is all the go in camp, and various pretended improvements have been made, each claiming a superiority over the other, like many patent stoves of the day.

> By way of variety in our monotonous duties Lieut. Marble of our company and Lieut. Baker of Co. C., (Michigan company) had a shooting match the other day for a pair of shoulder straps. Of course they had a jolly, pleasant time, as they both belong to that class of individuals who are bound to have a good time let the case be shots each. Lieut. Shepard acting as second Baker. There was a good deal of fun and some strife among the seconds as to who should wear the straps. But that was soon settled by the principal, when it was found after their respective strings were measured that Lieut. Marble was the victor, beating his opponent 2 3-16 inches, at the distance of 200 yards. His string of 10 shots measured 19 1-16 inches. You see by this that the Badger boys are bound to be ahead, and tak; the lend in target practice, as they mean to in everything else. News is of little importance, that article being a scarce commodity in this market, except that which we learn by way of the Gazette and some other Wisconsin papers, kindly furnished us by friends. However news can be manufactured out of little or no.hing, and could you hear an occasional "camp story" you would readily be convinced of that fact. I might say, without presumption, that we hear of events before their actual occurrence, and sometimes of those which probably never will occur. We are progressing finely in our Jrill, which consists chiefly of the "skirmish drill," and have got so that we can execute the different movements with much precision at the sound of the bugle; and we are all hoping that e're long we may receive the glad tidings of orders to march "way down south in de land ob cotton." where we can prove that we have not drilled in vain. But how fast time flies! The day is far advanced, the sky is again cloudless, and a friend has just come in and invited me to go out target shooting. As I accept his kind invitation, I must draw this hasty sketch to a close until some future season, when I may relate some of our adventures, if any occur worthy of note. How GEN. The War in Missouri.

There seems, as yet, to be some doubt whether Price and McCulloch are returning in force towards the Missouri river, or whether their army has broken up into squads, and are making their way back to their old ground near Lexington, to be "reconstructed." It is a fact, however, that cannot admit of doubt, that large numbers of rebels have appeared at various points north of Springfield, since the retreat of our army under the orders of Gen. Hunter. The policy of such a movement in Missouri has not been explained or defended. The press has had very little to say about it. Those who made fierce war upon Fremont for his alleged incapacity, appear to be nonplussed by the strange proceedings of the new generals; while his friends are not disposed to criticise very severely what appears unaccountable. It is not necessa. sary-the public is looking on calmly and intelligently, and we hope will come to an impartial conclusion. It cannot be doubted that at present the secessionists have the advantage; and if they are permitted to spend the winter in Missouri, eating out the substance of the Union men, and destroying what they cannot otherwise consume, they will have secured so strong a position that it will be difficult to dislodge them .-The example of our conduct towards the Union people of Missouri must have a disheartening effect everywhere in the south, and injure our cause immensely. If we go among them merely to induce them to take sides with us, and then abandon them, it would be far better that our armies should remain at home.

The new general, Halleck, has issued some new orders which appear to be a little too conservative-they seem to tie up more tightly the hands of our troops in their dealings with traitors, than is necessary. If a prisoner is arrested and sent to St. Louis, a written statement is required of the charges against him, and the evidence on which the arrest was based; otherwise the officer making the arrest will be charged with the expenses of his transportation. The following are the orders in relation to the seizure of private property:

"1st. No private property will be taken except where necessary for the subsistence or transportation of the troops, or in case of persons in arms against the United States, or affording aid and assistance to the enemy.

"2d. Where it becomes necessary to take private property for the former purpose, intelligent and responsible officers will be de-tailed for the purpose, who will take an accurate account of the property so taken, and give receipts therefor. All such property must be duly returned and accounted for, and the authority for the seizure must be stated in the receipts and returns. Any unauthorized and unnecessary seizure or destruction of private property will be punished with the extreme penalty imposed by the laws of war, which is death.

"The seizure and conversion of the private property of an enemy (where not required for immediate supplies, as provided in the foregoing paragraph) is justifiable only in particular cases, provided for by the laws of the United States, and the general laws of war, and should never be made except by the orders of the officer highest in command, who will be held accountable for the exercise of this power. Great caution should be used in this matter, as much injustice has been done to individuals who are not enemies, and much discredit cast upon our patriotic army by excesses committed by unauthorized persons pretending to act in the name of the United States. All property taken from alleged enemies must be in ventoried and duly accounted for.

"Any person violating these rules will be immediately arrested and reported to

The excessive caution used in these orders, in relation to the property of rebels, will almost entirely prevent its seizure.-Red tape is a good thing in small quantities. but when there is more of it than necessary, it degenerates into imbecility. It is especially a poor article to use in a war against the unscrupulous rebels and villains who now infest Missouri.

Those who have occasion to travel on this road will be well pleased with it.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette

CAMP GRIFFIN, Nov. 24, 1861. DEAR GAZETTE :-- When we first crossed the Potomac, I was of the opinion that we could once in a while predict the future movements of the army; but now that delusion has been dispelled, and we have at last been obliged to conclude that the soldiers knows not what a day may bring forth. Our future destiny is the most important topic here now-a-days; one day we are going to Fortress Monroe-the next to Port Royal—the next into winter quarters here -the fourth to march on Manassas; but when the time for us to move comes, we find the different rumors all without foundation, and the same endless routine of reviews and drills the order of the day. We are doing but little now but drill in the skirmish drill-in brigade drill-division drill -go on picket, camp, brigade and division guard. We were reviewed by Gen. Mc-Clellan, President Lincoln and staff on the 20th inst., at Bailey's Cross Roads, near Munson's Hill. It was a grand review, the largest ever made in the United States .-There were about 90 regiments of infantry, besides large bodies of cavalry and artillery, No passes were required to enable persons to come from the other side of the river to witness the review, and the high lands in the vicinity of the field was crowded with vehicles of every description from Washington, Georgetown, Alexandria and other places, filled with wondering spectators; every stump, log, tree, and stone had its fill of occupants, who were determined to see the sights of the day. The day was cool and pleasant, and the Fifth, as usual, won the honors of the day. The General was overheard to say, when it marched past him, that such marching could not be excelled in the whole army. The men were foot-sore and weary at the time of the review, having marched some eight miles that morning with knapsack and arms on, and a large share of that distance on "double quick" over wet and slippery roads, but when they marched past "Little Mack" (as the boys call him) they put the best foot forward: they determined to win, and they did. "Honest Old Abe" looked proud as the long lines of troops filed past him, and I believe the boys one and all were pleased with the appearance of both the President and commander-in-chief. A large number of the men who had an unfavorable impression of them before the review, returned and were the loudest among their admirers.

The next day a large force went out on a foraging expedition and brought in a large quantity of corn and bay. Thr forage was owned by loyal men, and they asked the General to go and get it to keep out of the hands of the rebels. Although the party went beyond Fairfax, they met with no oppositoon. Some rebel cavalry and infantry were seen in the distance, but as our party was the larger one they kept out of the way. Thus it is everywhere; when we send a force large enough to drive away all who might oppose them, the rebels never show themselves, but just as sure as we send a small party out they attack it.

Our division was reviewed day before yesterday by General Smith, and he expressed himself well pleased with the appearance of the men. Mrs. McClellan was on the ground and witnessed to review.

The health of the men is universally good the sick are getting better, and could we and constitution of Kentucky, where not inconsistent with the acts of the rebel govhave three weeks as good weather as we have had for the last three, there would be but a few sick in camp; but judging from steam sloop Racer was expected soon. It the aspect of the weather we are going to is reported that the privateer Sumpter was have winter, for it snows now and has all captured on the coast of Texas, by the frithe appearance of a storm.

The loyal people here are beginning to resume the vocations of peaceful life, and commonwealth, to day was observed as a the sight of a farmer as he drives home day of thanksgiving, and Gov. Pierpont is the sight of a farmer as he drives home from market with a load of groceries for his winter's use is not unfrequent. We are slowly but surely extending the lines of our pickets towards the enemy, and often for a day at a time our guards and theirs stand within hailing distance of each other; then the rebels fall back.

I will not attempt to tell where we will winter, but as yet we have made not the Halifax to this city. least preparations for staying here, and I think we will do some more work before we rest for the winter. There is a rumor that to-morrow we are to give the enemy battle at some place at or near Boll Run, but like all other such rumors it cannot be traced to any authentic source. I must close, as the time for roll call is near by, and although Sergeant Hern has a broken hand, he will soon cry out "fall in for roll call." FIFTH.

An Important Circular,

The following circular has been published y the State Treasurer:

STATE TREASURER'S OFFICE,) Madison, Nov. 27, 1861.

DEAR SIR:—To meet the interest on the state bonds, and to pay for purchases made in New York it will be necessary that a portion of the state tax soon to be collect ed, reach the treasury in coin. As there is at the present time a large amount of coin in the hands of the people, it will be no bardship for one third, at least, of the state tax to be required in this shape; the bal ance will be received in Wisconsin currency to the extent it is received from the taxpayer. I have the most satisfactory assurances that all Wisconsin currency now current-with the exception of the notes of the Dodge County Bank, Bank of Portage and Waupun Bank—the aggregate circulation of which is less than $10,000—will be redeemed so as to save the holders from all loss. In all cases where the banks issuing the notes fail to redeem as required by the amended banking law, the notes will be redeemed by the bankers' association, and at once retired from circulation, and the non-redeeming banks wound up without loss to the bill holder. From careful incorrectness of these assurances, and hesitate not to express the opinion that there will be no further trouble with Wisconsin currency. Very respectfully yours, SAMUEL D. HASTINGS, State Treasurer.

The Despatch proposes the abandonment of Norfolk in event of an attack, and begs the reinforcement of Richmond, City Point, and Thirty thousand troops are expected at Fortress Monroe, and an order was read to those there on Monday, that they will not be furnished with winter quarters. This seems to indicate an advance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. The following dispatch was received today from Gen. McCall, dated Camp Pierpont :- Col. N. Bayard with 70 men of the 1st cavalry reserve, marched last night at nine o'clock, with order to proceed to Drainsville and capture a party of the enemy's pickets, understood to be there. returned at noon to-day, having killed two and wounded one and taken eleven prisoners; two of the prisoners are cavalry, with their horses, arms and equipments. remainder are footmen. his horse killed and is slightly wounded: and Surgeon Alexander and one of our men are wounded.

By orders from Washington, a number of prisoners, mostly Marylanders, have been raleased from Fort Warren, after taking the outh of allegiance. Five prisoners, whose discharge had been ordered by Sec retary Seward, refused to take the oath of allegiance, as follows: W. G. Harrison, R. A. Carter, Thos. Shields, Geo. A. Appleton and Michael J. Washington, Nov. 27. Special to Post.—The Washington Republican has news from Winchester. Va., stating that Jackson, one of the rebel gen erals, is drilling a regiment composed wholly of slaves in that city, and that the negroes are to be made to fight against the federal troops.

Last Night's Report.

WHEELING, Va., Nov. 27.
A full organization of the Western Virginia convention was perfected to day. The work of forming a state constitution was assigned to a committee of 9, with no division of sentiment on the new state.-The business will be dispatched as fast as possible, and application made to congress early in the session, for admission. The general outside opinion is that the gradual emancipation clause will be adopted.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 27. The Bowling Green Courier of the 21st says the rebel Brigadier Gen. George B. Crittenden, brother of Thomas T. Crittenden, federal general, has been promoted to a major generalship and assigned to the department of Cumberland Gap.

Boston, Nov. 28. Col. Lee, of the Massachusetts 20th, captured at Ball's Bluff, writes briefly from Richmond, on the 8th, that as one of the officers drawn by lot to offset the course of government toward the rebel pirates, he is an inmate of a cell of the jail at Rich-Richmond. The same is true of other of ficers. His health, and that of Maj. Leeve, and Capts. Bowman and Rockwood, is good. Col. Lee is permitted to say, on good rebel authority, or what he considers as such, that the rabel government is not only willing but anxious to secure an exchange of prisoners with the United States government.

The following political prisoners from Kentucky were released to-day-J. W. Roberts, Joseph L. McFeel, W. E. Carney, W. Grubbs, Stephen Woolbridge, J. W. Griffin, Louis Hotslaw, Frank Crane and Henry Thurster.

New York, Nov. 28. Steamer Illinois from Port Royal, P. M. of the 25th, brings a mail and 74 passengers; also several prisoners. Steamer Flag arrived at Port Royal on the 24th and reported that Tybee Island was shelled by the Pocahontas, Seneca, Angusta and Flag, and met little or no response. A force of marines was sent on shore and found it evacuated. They took possession, hoisting the American flag. Tybee Island is at the mouth of Savannah river. Contrabands continued to arrive at Port Royal in large numbers. Gen. Sherman entrenchments across the whole island. Sore throat prevailed among the troops. Large quantities of cotton were still being found in store houses and barns, mostly unginned. Another expedition. consisting of two brigades under General Viele, would soon sail from Port Royal for the southern coast. Beaufort was still unoccupied by our troops, but two gunboats were anchored off the town. The schooner Essex arrived at Hilton Head, and reports being chased and fired at by a privateer several times, between St. Helena Sound and Hilton Head. BALTIMORE, NOV. 28.

MORNING DESPATCHES. WASHINGTON, NOV. 28. The report of Major Belger, quartermas ter at Baltimore, is satisfactory to the de-partment, showing that he has dispatched the forage of 23 vessels by railroad to Wash-ington within the last 30 days, being an average of 2,000 tons daily, besides a large amount of stores to the subsistence depart Special to Tribune-Adjutant General Thomas sent out instructions to-day to Gen. Sherman in Beaufort, to take possession of all the crops in the Island-cotton. corn. rice, &c., on military act, and to ship the cotton and such other crops as were not wanted for the army to New York, to be sold there for account of the government. Gen. Sherman was also directed to use the negro slaves to gather and secure the crops, and to assist in works for the defence of Port Royal and other places on the island. Gen. Sumner's division consists of Gen. Howard's and the Irish Brigade, two more New York and one Pennsylvania regiment, with a suitable contingent of cavalry and nfantry. It marched last night to its position, which is between the divisions of Gen. Heintzelman and Franklin, the former having been pushed some distance further down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. Herald's dispatch.—There is a report here day that the rebel steamer Nashville has un the blockade off Charleston, and entered that port with a valuable cargo, consisting of woolen, arms, wires for telegraphs, salt, &c. While this report comes only through rebel channels there is reason to believe it, as one of our consuls notified the government, some time since, that the Nashville was loaded in a certain foreign port and was intending to run the blockade government is expecting news to ar rive from Fort Pickens in about two days. The war department is hourly expecting the announcement from Gen. Sherman that he has taken nossession of the rebel fortifical ions commanding the entrance to St. Hele na Sound, about 15 miles north of Por Royal, and commanding the outlets of the loosaw and Combahee rivers, thus securng entire control of all the approaches the ocean to the cluster of sea islands, and affording another avenue for a move-ment towards the interior of the Palmeto Kingdom.

The rebels are already falling back from he Potomac before the slow but certain adrances of the Union forces. They hardly offer resistance to the passing of our wes sels. Many have come up within the past few days loaded with coal, to such an ex tent as to lower the price of that article rom $10 to $7.

CAPTURE OF THE PRIVATEER BEAURE-JARD.—A dispatch, dated New York, 20th,

A Key West letter states that the privateer Beauregard made no resistance. She was commanded by Capt. Gilbert Hays, and captured 100 miles from Abuco. She threw overboard most of her ammunition, &c. She had met no vessel, and not even fired a gun since leaving Charles-

The vessel captured by the Connecticut was the schooner Adelaide, of Nassau .--She was bound to Savannah, and had several cases of swords aboard, and her pur ser was Lieut. Hardy, of the confederate army. The Reliance came up to the navy yard from Indian Head last evening. Captain Hammond reports that just before he left, at half past one o'clock, a heavy fire was opened from the rebel batteries at Shipping Point; three or four shots were fired while the Reliance was in sight or hearing. Noth ing could be ascertained in regard to the object the rebels were firing at, as no vessels appeared beyond Stump Neck, consequently the supposition is that the batteries opened on the Maryland shore.

Times dispatch-Letters received from prisoners of the California regiment now in Richmond, show that but few were killed at the battle of Ball's Bluffs. Many whom it was supposed had been killed are now prisoners there, and it is confidently assert ed by the officers that 50 will include the whole number of dead from that regiment.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29. The Inquirer's Fort Monroe correspondent says, rebel reports state that Pensacola has been evacuated, and the navy yard enirely destroyed by the fire of Fort Pickens. Gen. Bragg had sent for reinforcements. The five federal vessels assisting Colonel Brown are said to have been riddled by the shots from Bragg's fortifications.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29. The Old Point boat has arrived. A flag of truce brought some ladies from Norfolk, but no news. The rebels are evidently endeavoring to keep back southern news.

New York, Nov. 29. Edwin James, the distinguished English awyer, now resident here, in a published letter in regard to the Mason and Slidell case, says: When the question is submitted by the cabinet of England to the law officers, or the responsible advisers of the crown, those authorities before giving any opinion will, in all probability, require from the officers in command of the Trent, distinct answers to the following questions:

1st. Were you acquainted with the terms of her majesty's proclamation, commanding strict neutrality on the part of all her subject, during the term of hostilities beween the northern and southern states? 2d. Did you not know that the two gen lemen, when they became passengers, not efugees, on board your vessel, were em-ploving themselves, or were employed, in in enterprise of direct hostility to the constitutional government of the United States? The answer to these two questions in the affirmative, and consequently with truth, they cannot be answered otherwise, wil reduce the question to very narrow dimensions. Should any doubt exist upon the second proposition, the message recently sent by Mr. Jeff. Davis, to his parliament at Richmond, will much facilitate its solu-I am, sir, respectfully yours,

> Correspondence of the Daily Gazette CAMP OF INSTRUCTION, BERDAN'S U. S. S. S. WASHINGTON, Nov. 28d, 1861.

'Tis a wet, gloomy day, just such a day as the soldier longs for when he wishes to converse with the friends he has left behind; and as this seems to be a sort of prerogative at the present time, how can I better improve the occasion than by writing to the Gazette to inform, your numerous friends what the sharp-shooters are doing in the land of "Dixie." Since leaving the fair plains of the Badg-

r State, we have all experienced the pleasures and duties of camp life, to such an extent that we are becoming somewhat familiar with the term obedience, and are beginning to learn the necessities of knowing the meaning of such words when the occasion requires it. The Wisconsin company of this regiment

re in fine spirits, as you know they always are-since you are acquainted with some of them-and it is said that we are fast learnng to become soldiers. The health of our boys never was better than at present, except in one or two instances, and they all seem as happy as one could wish. We are very pleasantly situated two miles north of Washington, on a little rise of land overlooking the capitol. Our camp is beautifully dotted with evergreens, affording a grateful shade for those who wish it during the warm sunshine.

"Wisconsin Avenue," as our street is fa niliarly called, is a favorite resort in the evening, for those who like sport, and are fond of taking jokes as they find them .suited to their several tastes. Some are See the notice in another column. tripping the light fantastic toe" to the sound of the violin and banjo, others are trying their dexterity using the boxing gloves to "blim" the eyes of their fellow comrads, others are singing the familiar ditties of the day peculiarly adapted to the "bold sojer boy," while others, being of a different turn of mind, are sitting beneath a large red cedar tree, debating some subject with all the gravity of a Demosthenes or a Cicero. Thus the pleasant evenings have been spent for a short time past, the participants of these pleasures relying upon the silvery light of Luna to aid them in their sports.

The very cool nights which we now experience have reminded us that " Jack " is at hand with his wintry breath and frosty beard; and to be prepared for his icy grasp and gloomy visage, the Badger boys have been building fire-places in their tents, the presence of which we expect will make him keep a respectable distance.

Our first successful fireplace was built by the lieutenants of our company, Lieut. Shepard being the genius who formed and carried the plan into execution. And could you "pop in" some evening and see how cozy they were sitting by the pleasant fire cracking jokes, you would readily come to the conclusion, with us, that "we'll be free and happy still." Since their fireplace has been built, it is all the go in camp, and various pretended improvements have been made, each claiming a superiority over the other, like many patent stoyes of the day.

By way of variety in our monotonous duties Lieut. Marble of our company and Lieut. Baker of Co. C., (Michigan company) had a shooting match the other day fo pair of shoulder straps. Of course they had a jolly, pleasant time, as they both belong to that class of individuals who are bound to have a good time let the case be what it may. They shot a string of ten shots each, Lieut. Shepard acting as second for Lieut. Marble and Mr. Stran for Lieut. Baker. There was a good deal of fun and some strife among the seconds as to who should wear the straps. But that was soon settled by the principal, when it was found after their respective strings were measured that Lieut. Marble was the victor, beating his opponent 2 3-16 inches, at the distance of 200 yards. His string of 10 shots measared 19 1.16 inches. You see by this that the Badger boys are bound to be ahead, and take the lead in target practice, as they mean to in everything else.

News is of little importance, that article being a scarce commodity in this market, except that which we learn by way of the Gazette and some other Wisconsin papers, kindly furnished us by friends. However, news can be manufactured out of little or no hing, and could you hear an occasional camp story" you would readily be convinced of that fact. I might say, without presumption, that we hear of events before their actual occurrence, and sometimes of those which probably never will occur.

We are progressing finely in our drill, which consists chiefly of the "skirmish drill," and have got so that we can execute the different movements with much precision at the sound of the bugle; and we are all hoping that e're long we may receive the glad tidings of orders to march "way down south in de land ob cotton," where we can prove that we have not drilled in vain. But how fast time flies! The day is far advanced, the sky is again cloudless, and a friend has just come in and invited me to go out target shooting. As I accept his kind invitation, I must draw this hasty sketch to a close until some future season, when I may relate some of our adventures, if any occur worthy of note. M. F. How GEN. BUEL TOOK COMMAND. Gen

Buel assumed the command without annunciation of a proclamation, and has gone to work in a quiet and business like man-The public hardly know a change has been made, and are disappointed at not having been indulged in a proclamation.— His first movement was to eject the paymasters from their anartments at headquai ers, where they have been imposing and intruding on the corps of engineers. A Louisville Cor. Cincinnati Commercial.

Another Proclamation

Col Jennison has issued the following proclamation to all persons in arms against the government in Jackson, Johnson, Lafayette and Pettis counties;

First-All who are now in arms against the government of the United States, in the above named counties, and who will sur render their arms and ammunition to me, and deliver to me all government property in their possession and under their control within reasonable time, and shall sign a deed of forfeiture, and shall hereafter form their duty as good citizens, shall not be responsible for past acts of rebellion but shall be protected in their lives and property.

Second—Arms which are thus surren dered to me shall be stored and taken ac count of, so that when the present difficul ties are settled, the owners thereof can obtain them.

Third—Persons who shall surrender themselves to mee, in order to make arrangements for securing peace to their neighborhoods, shall be respected in their rights while arranging or attempting to arrange any terms, and shall be allowed to return to their homes, even should they, after a conference, fail to come to arrange ments or understanding.
Fourth—All who shall neglect these terms, or continue in armed rebellion against the government of the United States, shall be treated as traitors and slain wherever found. Their property shall be confiscated, their homes burned, and in no case spared either in persons or property. The deed of forfeiture accompanying these propositions, convey all real and personal property, including present and future acquisition, into the hands of the government; the property to be used for the benefit of the government. In case of rebellion all loval citizens are required to enroll themselves into a home guard, holding themselves amenable to the military authority of the United States, and of the state of Missouri, pledging their utmost exertions to maintain its authorit against all hostile combinations. Col. Doran's IRISH BRIGADE.—We pub lish a notice in relation to this brigade, and are gratified to hear that it is filling up fast with the right kind of material, and that Col. D. expects to go into camp immediate-Here, when the weather will permit, the ly. It is a very favorable opportunity for hovs of different companies gather together, our Irish citizens to enlist under officers each group pursuing the amusement best and a chaplain of their own nationality. CONTRABANDS IN PHILADELPHIA .-- A dis patch from Philadelphia says that 37 " contrabands" arrived in that city during one night recently, having walked northward from Accomac county, on the peninsula, Virginia. They were supplied with money by the Wisconsin troops. A number of these people are constantly arriving, which has stimulated a public meeting to be held to assist them. AN ATTRACTIVE LECTURE.-We learn that the Rev. Mr. Helmer, pastor of the Plymouth church, Milwaukee, has consented to deliver in this city, next Monday evening, a lecture heretofore given in Beloit. Kenosha, and perhaps other places. This lecture has the unique title of " Masculine, Feminine and Neuter," and it is said to be a production of unusual originality and merit, while Mr. H. has all the graces of a finished orator. The place for the delivery of the lecture will be announced here

City and County Orders.

A few city and county orders, in small amounts, convenient for the payment of taxes, for sale at this office. The Third Cavalry.

The Madison Cavalcy, Capt. Derry, arrived Wednesday, and were mustered into the United States service by Capt. Lamont, of the regular army, the mustering officer. They were a fine looking body of men. came Capt. Derry is a former officer in the Queen's Life Guard, the finest body of cavman and makes a fine appearing officer. Lieut. Welch, the ex-sheriff of Dane county, is known by everybody, and it is useless to say anything in his praise, for that is on everybody's tongue. The second lieutenant is James Campbell, au old citizen of Madison, who has left a flourishing business to take part in "the big wars that make ambition virtue." He is an excellent officer. The Janesville Cavalry was mustered in the same day. This company was raised by Capt. Justin. They are a first rate lot of men, and will do credit to themselves and make good soldiers.

Yasterday the Monroe County Cavalry came in. They were met at the depot and escorted down town by Capt. Derry's and Justin's companies. This company mustered 105 men, as good as ever straddled a horse. They came well supplied with blankats, comforters and bed clothes, and showed a good proficiency in drill. They are officered as follows: Captain, J. D. Damman; 1st Lieut., R. Carpenter; 2d Lieut., L. Molley.

the Hyatt House. They are very comfort. been pronounced. able, blankets having been received and straw being cheap.

A fine company, fully uniformed, has been tendered from St. Paul. It is commanded by Capt. A. C. Brackett, an experienced officer. Col. Barstow, while desirous of filling up with Wisconsin men only, liked the handsome style in which the Minnesota company was offered, and accepted

The Green Lake Cavalry, Capt. Stevens, is expected here next Tuesday. They have a tame eagle, captured by Lieut. Poud, formerly editor of the Markesan Journal.-The bird measures six feet three inches from tip to tip, and is a noble specimen. The colonel has agreed to furnish a horse, with officer's equipments, and a stately perch for the accommodation of the eagie. Companies will be faily arriving till the regiment is full. Two lots of horses have come in and are being inspected. The board of inspectors consists of William P. Barroughs of this city, Charley Rice of Milwaukee, and Andrew Bishop of Madison. The uniforms are obtained directly from the United States, and have been shipped from Philadelphia. They will be here in a day or two.

Colonel, William A. Barstow. First Major, Elias A. Calkins. Second Major, B. S. Henning. Quartermaster, A. W. Earr.

SSERIEF IN a Fix.-On Tuesday of this week, while the grand jury was in session in this city, one of the jurymen being late in his attendance on the morning session, was " presented" by one of his associates, and baving no satisfactory excuse for his tardiuess, was fixed a bushel of apples .--The next morning while on his way to the jury room with the apples in a hag on his shoulder, he was met by Sheriff Putnam, violently assaulted by that officer, and a part of the contents of the bag taken from him. Here was a new case for the action of the jury, and "a bill" was found against the therist, who was duly summoned before the august tribunal. A plea of guilty was entered, and a line of a bushel of pippins imposed. The offender appealed to the mercy of the body before whom he was arraigned, and a commutation of sentence granted, reducing the fine one-half, under a promise to retrain from a repetition of his offence during the remainder of his term of office. The whole proceedings were conducted with the utmost solemnity by the dignified foremen, and the fact of a peaceful termination of the affair was owing to per tell: the absence of any lawyer on the jury to raise a question on the constitutional power of the self-constituted court, and legality of the trial, or a learned judge to confuse the clips. case with his wisdom.

BUFFALO ROBE LOST .- A buffalo robe, lined with drugget, was lost Wednesday evening between the depot and the residence of Hami'ton Richardson. The findar will be rewarded by leaving it at the store of R. J. Richardson,

A New Arrangement.

On the 1st of next January a change will be made in the proprietorship of the Gazette Office by the withdrawal of Mr. Bowen. This change will render absolutely necessary a settlement of the subscriptions and other accounts due the colored of the seventeenth regiment Wispresent firm. We hope our friends will give this matter their immediate attention, and leave as few debts them gives, by letter or personally, to these as possible for settlement after the heavily wars, stating the number and prochange is made. It will be easier faire of the recruits enrolled, and the and better to all concerned to settle prosest and their several localities. And, before that time, as a settlement must be made.

City and County Orders.

A few city and county orders, in small amounts, convenient for the payment of taxes, for sale at this office. The Third Cavalry.

The Madison Cavalry, Capt. Derry, arrived Wednesday, and were mustered into the United States service by Capt. Lamont, of the regular army, the mustering officer, the in-They were a fine looking body of men. Capt. Derry is a former officer in the Queen's Life Guard, the finest body of cavalry in the world, is an accomplished swords. man and makes a fine appearing officer. Lieut. Welch, the exisheriff of Dane county, is known by everybody, and it is useless to say anything in his praise, for that is on everybody's tongue. The second lieutenant is James Campbell, an old citizen of Madison, who has left a flourishing business to take part in "the big wars that make ambition virtue." He is an excellent officer.

The Janesville Cavalry was mustered in the same day. This company was raised by Capt. Justin. They are a first rate lot of men, and will do credit to themselves and make good soldiers.

Yesterday the Monroe County Cavalry came in. They were met at the depot and escorted down town by Capt. Derry's and Justin's companies. This company mustered 105 men, as good as ever straddled a horse. They came well supplied with blankets, comforters and hed clothes, and showed a good proficiency in drill. They are officered as follows: Captain, J. D. Damman; 1st Lieut., R. Carpenter; 2d Lieut., L. Molley.

The companies, as fast as they arrive, are being quartered in the vacant rooms of the Hyatt House. They are very comfortable, blankets having been received and straw being cheap.

A fine company, fully uniformed, has been tendered from St. Paul. It is commanded by Capt. A. C. Brackett, an experienced officer. Col. Barstow, while desirous of filling up with Wisconsin men only, liked the handsome style in which the Minnesota company was offered, and accepted them at once.

The Green Lake Cavalry, Capt. Stevens, held is expected here next Tuesday. They have a tame eagle, captured by Lieut. Pond, for merly editor of the Markesan Journal .--The bird measures six feet three inches from tip to tip, and is a noble specimen. meei The colonel has agreed to furnish a horse, with officer's equipments, and a stately perch for the accommodation of the eagle. Companies will be flaily arriving till the regiment is full. Two lots of horses have come in and are being inspected. The board of inspectors consists of William P. Barroughs of this city, Charley Rice of Milwaukee, and Andrew Bishop of Madison. The uniforms are obtained directly from the United States, and have been shipped from Philadelphia. They will be here in a day or two.

The regimental officers thus far appointed, are as follows:

Colonel, William A. Barstow. First Major, Elias A. Calkins. Second Major, B. S. Henning. Quartermaster, A. W. Earr.

SEFRIFF IN a Fix .- On Tuesday of this week, while the grand jury was in session in this city, one of the jurymen being late in his attendance on the morning session, was " presented " by one of his associates, and having no satisfactory excuse for his tardiness, was fined a bushel of apples .-The next morning while on his way to the jary room with the apples in a bag on his shoulder, he was met by Sheriff Putnam, violently assaulted by that officer, and a part of the contents of the bag taken from him. Here was a new case for the action of the jury, and "a bill" was found against the sheriff, who was duly summoned before the august tribunal. A plea of guilty was entered, and a fine of a bashel of pippins imposed. The offender appealed to the mercy of the body before whom he was arraigned, and a commutation of sentence granted, reducing the fine one-half, under a promise to refrain from a repetition of his offence during the remainder of his term of office. The whole proceedings were conducted with the utmost solemuity by the dignified foreman, and the fact of a peaceful termination of the affair was owing to the absence of any lawyer on the jury to raise a question on the constitutional power of the self-constituted court, and legality of the trial, or a learned judge to confuse the case with his wisdom.

BUPPALO ROBE LOST .- A buffalo robe, lined with drugget, was lost Wednesday evening between the depot and the residesce of Hamilton Richardson. The finder will be rewarded by leaving it at the store of R. J. Richardson.

To Our Debtors.

It will be seen by a notice in another column, that on the first of January next there will be a change in the proprietorship of the Gazette. The NECESSITY of a settlement of ALL our accounts will be apparent to all who will give the subject their attention, and as our own convenience will be materially promoted by a settlement before the dissolution of the partnership, and the interest of no debtor will be injured by doing in season what must come at last, we hope there will be no request or attempt | CROCKERY & GLASS WARE at delay Mr. Wilcox will devote his time to this matter, and as there are a large number of persons to settle with, let each one be proposed when called on. No one will be carned out of the office if he calls here for that purpose.

This history will tell the Story as it is, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, includ-ing all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and haked dates, nor a ompilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting parantive, the revolutionary steps, as well as the me sures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence-will sift all ru-

ADDRESS

THE above are First Class, justive popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mertgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that has not, for the past for years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of years, as the experience of the past teaches, to become panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become parsic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surblus on hand sufficient to relineure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances fluir times, needed for the reinsmance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an succeedainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company, all wall invested for the benefit of Pelicy holders, so that the profits of this vast sun pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solveney and reliability and houseable deading, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Erocklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are overy way more reliable and bermanent, than ad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to rainous, tains, and other succes, and limble, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calentated to malead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to refineure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital funct the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Folicies issued without delay, and farms ricks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an amountainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid. the fluctuations of the market, and linble, in times of the struggle for the Union.

The only Correct and Complete HISTORY OF THE WAR. THE SOUTHERN REBELLION

WAR FOR THE UNION:

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the Story as II is, giving a clear, conseenitive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speaches. It will not be a mere-diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a complination of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government. in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carafully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style solted to its theme—at once graphic, carnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social jucidents as may sorre to show the once graphic, earnest and minimous retroiting sates personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybedy reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a memorial of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every citice, every library: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Yusion man, every good citizen in our still Olerious Land.

A Wide Awake American Before an English Audience-Bold and Timely Speech.

The reflecting men of England are concentrating their thoughts on the American question; all classes discuss it, and is the general theme of conversation wherever men gather together. Each newspaper has its leaders, and each member of Parliament has his fling at the "bubble bursting republic of the west." At a dinner given by Henry Wood, Esq., the large anchor and chain manufacturer of Birkenhead, at the Westminister Palace Hotel, this all-absorbing subject, the American question, was the feature of the entertainment. Our consul, Mr. Morse, made an eloquent speech. Mr. Bell, the builder of the Warrior, Mr. Gladstone, and a distinguished gentleman from Georgia, who recently left that state for his Union sentiments, and several other gantlemen joined in the animated debate between the English, the Scotch and the Americans. Mr. George Francis Train, whose strong Union sentiments have so often been recorded in these columns, created some excitement by his attack on England's unmanly course in this rebellion, and some of his strictures were emphatically denied by some of the gentleman present—the chairman especially—who asserted that he knew there was the most friendly feeling in this country towards America. Some extracts from Mr. Train's speech will show the warmth of this debate.

Mr. Chairman-You are an old friend of mine, and knowing me so well, I am surprised that you call me up on street railways when the American question is on the table. (Hear.) I admit I am good for a speech on that or any other topic, but tonight I intend to sink the shop and talk the senate chamber-suffice it to know that my success is complete. I have run the gaunt-let, with all kinds of weapons aimed at me, but have passed the Manassas Gap of English conservatism and introduced a carriage for the people-(cheers)-with colors flying and lots of money still in the treasury. (Hear and laughter.) But no more of that, let me talk on America. I thank you, Mr. Wood, and you, gentlemen, for your good wishes for peace, but we want no peace. You say England is with us; I know that she is against us, and has been from the first. (No, no.) I say yes, yes—and the question is, how much plain talk-in can you stand from a man who loves him can you stand from a man who loves his wife, his children and his God, but who loves his country more than all-(loud cheers)-for a man without a country is unworthy of wife and children, and poor God forsaken devil, he had better die-(hear, hear)—and this, gentlemen, is what England has recommended. (No.)

England's neutrality has already cost five thousand lives. She has made a great mistake, and three months bence she will acknowledge it. Will you let me speak my mind? (Yes.) Now, I beg of you, gentlemen, not to get excited when I tell you a few startling facts to prove how unwise, how ungenerous, how dangerous has been England's so-called neutrality on the American question. England's sympathies are with, and have been with the south, not out of hate to the north, but because she wished to see us break in two. [No.] When a man is very ill it is to say the least of it, had taste to go and order all your mourning, for perhaps he may get well again, and how suprised be to see the notices of which were prepared. England's neutrality consists in standing on the platform and cheering the rebels on. Read the secession organs of the country. Secession organs, did I say? There are no others save the Daily News, the Star, the Liverpool Post, and two or three more journals—the rest all have flags flying and cannons booming to stimulate treason on to murder. The press leads the way. The cabinet would declare war at once if it dared; and I am not sure but what the Mexican intervention is war in disguise. Read the speeches of members of parliament to their constituents. You find them secession to the backbone. Is there any question about Lindsay's language, or Captain Jarvis, or Bul-wer Lytton? I like Bulwer for his frankness and his honesty. He is no hypocrite. He talks as he thinks, and says, he hopes the country will not only break up in two but four pieces! It is already too powerful, and its growth should be checked .-England's neutrality consists in giving all her sympathy to the rebels. Suppose and I, Mr. Chairman, were friends of forly years acquaintance, and some night on the highway a burglar tries to assassinate you after having stolen your money, would you I AM authorized by Major Siem. not think it almost out of the pale of humanity in this civilized age to have me infantry, to enlist all able-bodied not think it almost out of the pale of huremain neutral? or, what is worse, to hear me cheer the thief on in his bloody work? (Chairman-It is not a fair analogy.)-Analogy or not, that is England's position to-day toward America. (No, no.) Ere many months you may have revolution in this garden island—the revolution that arises from a starving population—for is there not unmistakable signs of a corn famine in Ireland, and a cotton famine in England? Suppose such to happen, and class should be arrayed against class, would you not think it damnable for America to join the rebels, and cry lustily for the des truction of this proud nation, as England is continuing to cry for America's rain.-(Hear, hear, and no.) Hear are the facts I wish to make known. The south has always been the enemy of England, as the north has been her friend friend. (Hear, and true.) Every act of hostility has emanated from that quarter. Look along our history's page. What was the non intercourse act previous to the last war but a southern institution? Was not the embago act and the war of 1812, itself a southern institution? The whole north was against it, and the Hartford conventionites, to this day, are subjects of derision by the southerners for the sympathy New England showed for Old England. (Hear and cheers.) What was the high tariff act, the twenty five cents a yard duty on cotton, of 1816, but a southern institution? All New England voted against Mr. Calhoun's American Ambrotype, Photograph system. It was the same in 1820 and 1824 but the south having passed their high tariff, the north showed its enterprise by putting up cotton mills, and it was not for some years after (1828) that the north voted for protection. Then Mr. Calhoun, in 1832, wanted to kill the bantling he had created in 1816, and because he could not succeed, started his hell-born nullification cry, which was so summarily stopped by General Jackson. What was the Mexican war but a TUNEST Beltimore Orsters received daily. For sale by the can, dozen cans or case at lowest market oc28daw3m What were the fillibustering expeditions against Cuba but southern institutions?— Where did Lopez hail from? where Walk-, DAILY GAZETTE. Where did Lynch law, the Bowie knife, and the duelist or originate but in the south? Is not repudiation purely a south ern institution? Who was it that showed their sympathies against England in the Russian war but the entire democratic party, which for forty years has been a southern institution? The whigs were with England, but the democrats cheered the Russian arms. These are all southern STANDARD MACHINES, with our institutions. institutions, and certainly negro slavery is not an institution of the north. Where, then, does England find food for sympathy with the damned traitors in this hell-born conspiracy? Was it the north or south who sent the contributions to Ireland in their distress? [Hear, hear.] Was it the north or south who put the flags at half-mast on the death of Havelock? [cheers] and tell me, gentlemen, who received the son of your Queen with open arms, but the proud children of our northern country? Boiling over No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly with good will to England, we took the Prince and embraced him, because we loved this old land and its mighty associations. [Cheers.] We loved to mix our history and lose it even in yours. [Cheers.] We loved your Christian Queen, and showed all these things in the warm and honest reception we gave her son. [Loud cheers.] All this was in the north, but when he crossed the border into the slave country, he hastened away quickly for fear of repeated insult! Yes, gentlemen, it was in the capital of the so-called confederate states, Richmond, that the Prince of Wales feared the action of the mob, and saw for the first time that he was not welcome in the land where once his ancestors ruled. [Hear, and true.] Know-ing, theo, that all these acts of violence and hostility against England came from the south, you can imagine the disgust of the north in reading the Times day after day, and the Telegraph, the Herald, the Chronicle, and nearly all the entire British press. encouraging the rebels on in their unchristan work! England has made a mistakea fatal mistake. To make sure that I am not in the wrong, I am preparing a book of opinions of the press-extracts from speeches of members of parliament and the ministry, which will prove the hostility of Eug-

in Carriage Trimming. Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' efficiency that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is ver, great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the churtle will hold six times the usual quantity of threat. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the intertock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and if, the manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oll in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, as higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost arcters.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting thepublic and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious made in initiation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive nanufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are sleways itable to fact out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainly of correct action at all vales of speed, simplicity of contraction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grant scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as alow rates of speed, but last long in the fluest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in initiation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift,

Where breathes the foe but falls before us. With Freedom's soil beneath our fect,

And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us! The War in Missouri. There seems, as yet, to be some doubt whether Price and McColloch are returning in force towards the Missouri river, or whether their army has broken up into squads, and are making their way back to their old ground near Lexington, to be "reconstructed." It is a fact. however, that cannot admit of doubt, that large numbers of rebels have appeared at various points north of Springfield, since the retreat of our army under the orders of Gen. Hunter. The policy of such a movement in Missonri has not been explained or defended. The press has had very little to say about it. Those who made herce war upon Fremont for his alleged incapacity, appear to be nouplussed by the strange proceedings of the new generals; while his friends are not disposed to criticise very severely what appears unaccountable. It is not necessa. sary-the public is looking on calmly and intelligently, and we hope will come to an impartial conclusion. It cannot be doubted that at present the secessionists have the advantage; and if they are permitted to spend the winter in Missouri, eating out the substance of the Union men, and destroying what they cannot otherwise consume. they will have secured so strong a position that it will be difficult to dislodge them .sion of them before the review, returned and The example of our conduct towards the were the loudest among their admirers. "1st. No private property will be taken except where necessary for the subsistence or transportation of the troops, or in case of persons in arms against the United States, or affording aid and assistance to the enemy

"2d. Where it becomes necessary to take private property for the former purpose, in-telligent and responsible officers will be detailed for the purpose, who will take an accurate account of the property so taken, and give receipts therefor. All such property must be duly returned and accounted for, and the authority for the seizure must be stated in the receipts and returns. Any unauthorized and unnecessary seizure or destruction of private property will be punished with the extreme penalty imposed by the laws of war, which is death.

"The seizure and conversion of the private property of an enemy (where not required for immediate supplies, as provided in the foregoing paragraph) is justifiable only in particular cases, provided for by the laws of the United States, and the general laws of war, and should never be made except by the orders of the officer highest in command, who will be held accountable for the exercise of this power. Great caution should be used in this matter, as much injustice has been done to individuals who are not enemies, and much discredit cast upon our patriotic army by excesses committed by unauthorized persons pretending to act in the name of the United States. All property taken from alleged enemies must be inventoried and duly accounted for.

"Any person violating these rules will be immediately arrested and reported to headquarters.

The excessive caution used in these orders, in relation to the property of rebels, will almost entirely prevent its seizure .-Red tape is a good thing in small quantities, but when there is more of it than necessary, it degenerates into imbecility. It is especially a poor article to use in a war against the unscrupulous rebels and villains who now infest Missouri.

CAMP GRIFFIN, Nov. 24, 1861. DEAR GAZETTE :- When we first crossed the Potomac, I was of the opinion that we could once in a while predict the future movements of the army; but now that delusion has been dispelled, and we have at last been obliged to conclude that the soldiers knows not what a day may bring forth. Our future destiny is the most important topic here now-a-days; one day we are go--the fourth to march on Manassas; but when the time for us to move comes, we find the different rumors all without foundation, and the same endless routine of reviews and drills the order of the day. We are doing but little now but drill in the skirmish drill-in brigade drill-division drill -go on picket, camp, brigade and division guard. We were reviewed by Gen. Mc-

Clellan, President Lincoln and staff on the largest ever made in the United States .-There were about 90 regiments of infantry, besides large bodies of cavalry and artillery. No passes were required to enable persons to come from the other side of the river to witness the review, and the high lands in the vicinity of the field was crowded with vehicles of every description from Washington, Georgetown, Alexandria and other places, filled with wondering spectators; every stump, log, tree, and stone had its fill of occupants, who were determined to see the sights of the day. The day was cool and pleasant, and the Fifth, as usual, won the honors of the day. The General was overheard to say, when it marched past him, that such marching could not be excelled in the whole army. The men were foot-sore and weary at the time of the review, having marched some eight miles that morning with knapsack and arms on, and a large share of that distance on "double quick" over wet and slippery roads, but the boys call him) they put the best foot | The report is doubtful. forward; they determined to win, and they did. "Honest Old Abe" looked proud as the long lines of troops filed past him. and I believe the boys one and all were pleased with the appearance of both the President and commander-in-chief. A large number of the men who had an unfavorable impres-

foraging expedition and brought in a large quantity of corn and hay. Thr forage was wned by loyal men, and they asked the General to go and get it to keep out of the hands of the rebels. Although the party went beyond Fairfax, they met with no onpositoon. Some rebel cavalry and infantry were seen in the distance, but as our party was the larger one they kept out of the way. Thus it is everywhere; when we send force large enough to drive away all who might oppose them, the rebels never show themselves, but just as sure as we send a small party out they attack it.

Our division was reviewed day before yesterday by General Smith, and he expressed himself well pleased with the appearance of the men. Mrs. McClellan was on the ground and witnessed to review.

The health of the men is universally good -the sick are getting better, and could we have three weeks as good weather as we have had for the last three, there would be but a few sick in camp; but judging from the aspect of the weather we are going to is reported that the privateer Sumpter was have winter, for it snows now and has all the appearance of a storm.

The loyal people here are beginning to resume the vocations of peaceful life, and commonwealth, to-day was observed as a the sight of a farmer as he drives home from market with a load of groceries for his winter's use is not unfrequent. We are exactly like Janesville.] slowly but surely extending the lines of our pickets towards the enemy, and often for a day at a time our guards and theirs stand within hailing distance of each other; then the rebels fall back.

winter, but as yet we have made not the least preparations for staying here, and I think we will do some more work before we rest for the winter. There is a rumor that to-morrow we are to give the enemy battle at some place at or near Bull Run, but like all other such rumors it cannot be close, as the time for roll call is near by, and although Sergeant Hern has a broken hand, he will soon cry out "fall in for roll call." Dear Sin:—To meet the interest on the state bonds, and to pay for purchases made in New York it will be necessary that a portion of the state tax soon to be collected, reach the treasury in coin. As there is at the present time a large amount of coin tax to be required in this shape; the bal ance will be received in Wisconsin currency to the extent it is received from the taxpayer. I have the most satisfactory assurances that all Wisconsin currency now current-with the exception of the notes of the Dodge County Bank, Bank of Portage and Wanpun Bank—the aggregate circulation of which is less than $10,000-will be redeemed so as to save the holders from all loss. In all cases where the banks issuing the notes fail to redeem as required by the non-redeeming banks wound up without correctness of these assurances and hesiwill be no further trouble with Wisconsin currency. REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE. BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Wednesday Night's Report.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27. A Fortress Monroe letter says the rebels lost 15 killed and wounded in the shelling of their camp at Warwick.

The Richmond Despatch reports 3,000 Unionists in the mountains of East Tennessee, under Parson Brownlow and Major ing to Fortress Monroe—the next to Port Gilham, doing more mischief than the Royal—the next into winter quarters here Yankees in Kentucky. The Despatch proposes the abandonment of Norfolk in the event of an attack, and begs the reinforcement of Richmond, City Point, and Yorktown.

Thirty thousand troops are expected at Fortress Monroe, and an order was read to those there on Monday, that they will not be furnished with winter quarters. This seems to indicate an advance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. The following dispatch was received today from Gen. McCall, dated Camp Pierpont :- Col. N. Bayard with 70 men of the 20th inst., at Bailey's Cross Roads, near lst cavalry reserve, marched last night at Managan's Hill It was a grand review, the nine o'clock, with order to proceed to Drainsville and capture a party of the enemy's pickets, understood to be there. He returned at noon to-day, having killed two and wounded one and taken eleven prisoners; two of the prisoners are cavalry, with their horses, arms and equipments. remainder are footmen. Col. Bayard had his horse killed and is slightly wounded and Surgeon Alexander and one of our men are wounded.

BOSTON, Nov. 27. By orders from Washington, a number of prisoners, mostly Marylanders, have been raleased from Fort Warren, after taking the oath of allegiance. Five prisoners, whose discharge had been ordered by Secretary Seward, refused to take the oath of allegiance, as follows : W. G. Harrison, R. A. Carter, Thos. Shields, Geo. A. Appleton and Michael J. Grady. They were all retained in custody. 1st Lieut. J. R. Tatnall of the marines, late commanding the marine goard of the San Jacinto, has been seut to Fort Warren. He is a son of Commodore Tatnali.

The following political prisoners from Kentucky were released to-day-J. W. Roberts, Joseph L. McFeal, W. E. Carney, W. Grubbs, Stephen Woolbridge, J. W. Griffin, Louis Hotslaw, Frank Crane and Henry Thurster.

New York, Nov. 28. Steamer Illinois from Port Royal, P. M. of the 25th, brings a mail and 74 passengers; also several prisoners. Steamer Flag arrived at Port Royal on the 24th and reported that Tybee Island was shelled by the Pocahontas, Seneca, Augusta and Flag, and met little or no response. A force of marines was sent on shore and found it evacuated. They took possession, hoisting the American flag. Types Island is at the mouth of Savannah river. Contrabands continued to arrive at Port Royal in large numbers. Gen. Sherman had built entrenchments across the whole island. Sore throat prevailed among the troops. Large quantities of cotton were still being found in store houses and barns, mostly unginned. Another expedition, consisting of two brigades under General Viele, would soon sail from Port Royal for the southern coast. Beaufort was still inoccupied by our troops, but two gunboats were anchored off the town. Sherman in Beaufort, to take possession of all the crops in the Island—cotton, corn, rice, &c., on military act, and to ship the cotton and such other crops as were not wanted for the army to New York, to be sold there for account of the government. Gen. Sherman was also directed to use the negro slaves to gather and secure the crops, and to assist in works for the defence o Port Royal and other places on the island. Gen. Sumner's division consists of Gen. Howard's and the Irish Brigade, two more New York and one Pennsylvania regiment, with a suitable contingent of cavalry and nfantry. WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. Herald's dispatch.-There is a report here o day that the rebel steamer Nashville has run the blockade off Charleston, and entered that port with a valuable cargo, consist ing of woolen, arms, wires for telegraphs salt, &c. While this report comes only through rebel channels there is reason to believe it, as one of our consuls notified the government, some time since, that the Nashville was loaded in a certain foreign port and was intending to run the blockade The government is expecting news to ar rive from Fort Pickens in about two days The war department is hourly expecting the announcement from Gen. Sherman that he has taken possession of the rebel fortifica tions commanding the entrance to St. Helena Sound, about 15 miles north of Por Royal, and commanding the outlets of the Coosaw and Combanee rivers, thus securing entire control of all the approaches from the ocean to the cluster of sea islands and affording another avenue for a move-ment towards the interior of the Palmeto Kingdom.

The rebels are already falling back from the Potomac before the slow but certain ad vances of the Union forces. They hardly offer resistance to the passing of our ves sels. > Correspondence of the Daily Gazette. CAMP OF INSTRUCTION, BERDAN'S U. S. S. S.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 28d, 1861.

'Tis a wet, gloomy day, just such a day as the soldier longs for when he wishes to converse with the friends he has left behind; and as this seems to be a sort of prerogative at the present time, how can I better improve the occasion than by writing to the Gazette to inform your numerous friends | tain them. what the sharp-shooters are doing in the land of "Dixie."

Since leaving the fair plains of the Badger State, we have all experienced the pleasares and duties of camp life, to such an extent that we are becoming somewhat familiar with the term obedience, and are beginning to learn the necessities of knowing the meaning of such words when the occasion requires it.

The Wisconsin company of this regiment are in fine spirits, as you know they always are-since you are acquainted with some of them-and it is said that we are fast learning to become soldiers. The health of our boys never was better than at present, except in one or two instances, and they all seem as happy as one could wish.

We are very pleasantly situated two miles north of Washington, on a little rise of land overlooking the capitol. Our camp is beautitully dotted with evergreens, affording a grateful shade for those who wish it during the warm sunshine.

"Wisconsin Avenue," as our street is familiarly called, is a favorite resort in the evening, for those who like sport, and are fond of taking jokes as they find them .-Here, when the weather will permit, the boys of different companies gather together, each group pursuing the amusement best suited to their several tastes. Some are "tripping the light fantastic toe" to the sound of the violia and banjo, others are trying their dexterity using the boxing gloves to " blim " the eyes of their fellow comrads, others are singing the familiar ditties of the day peculiarly adapted to the "bold soier boy," while others, being of a different turn cedar tree, debating some subject with all the gravity of a Demosthenes or a Cicero. Thus the pleasant evenings have been spent for a short time past, the participants of these pleasures relying upon the silvery light of Luna to aid them in their sports.

The very cool nights which we now experience have reminded us that "Jack" is at hand with his wintry breath and frosty heard: and to be prepared for his icy grasp and gloomy visage, the Badger boys have been building fire-places in their tents, the presence of which we expect will make him keep a respectable distance.

Our first successful fireplace was built by the lieutenants of our company, Lieut. Shepard being the genius who formed and carried the plan into execution. And could you "pop in" some evening and see how cozy they were sitting by the pleasant fire cracking jokes, you would readily come to the conclusion, with us, that "we'll be free at the battle of Ball's Bluffs. Many whom and happy still." Since their fireplace has been built, it is all the go in camp, and vaious pretended improvements have been made, each claiming a superiority over the other, like many patent stoves of the day. By way of variety in our monotonous duties Lieut. Marble of our company and Lieut. Baker of Co. C., (Michigan company) had a shooting match the other day for a pair of shoulder straps. Of course they had a jolly, pleasaut time, as they both belong to that class of individuals who are bound to have a good time let the case be what it may. They shot a string of ten shots each, Lieut. Shepard acting as second for Lien'. Marble and Mr. Stran for Lient. Baker. There was a good deal of fun and some strife among the seconds as to who should wear the straps. But that was soon settled by the principal, when it was found after their respective strings were measured that Lieut. Marble was the victor, beating his opponent 2 3-16 inches, at the distance of 200 yards. His string of 10 shots measured 19 1-16 inches. You see by this that the Badger boys are bound to be ahead, and case, says: When the question is submitted by the cubinet of England to the law tak; the lead in target practice, as they mean to in everything else.

News is of little importance, that article being a scarce commodity in this market, except that which we learn by way of the Gazette and some other Wisconsin papers, kindly furnished us by friends. However, news can be manufactured out of little or no.hing, and could you hear an occasional "camp story" you would readily be contlemen, when they became passengers, not vinced of that fact. I might say, without presumption, that we hear of events before their actual occurrence, and sometimes of those which probably never will occur.

We are progressing finely in our drill, which consists chiefly of the "skirmish drill," and have got so that we can execute sions. Should any doubt exist upon the the different movements with much precision at the sound of the bugle; and we are all hoping that e're long we may receive the glad tidings of orders to march "way down south in de land ob cotton," where we can prove that we have not drilled in vain. But how fast time flies! The day is far advanced, the sky is again cloudless, enemy's works. Guns have been carried and a friend has just come in and invited me to go out target shooting. As I accept terior was on its way. It was reported that there were 14,000 rebels at Hardsville, 20 shouth to a clear partition, I must draw this hasty sketch to a close until some future season, when I may relate some of our adventures,

How Gen. Buel Took Command.-Gen.

Buel assumed the command without anor gun boats. The rebel guns at Braddock's nunciation of a proclamation, and has gone to work in a quiet and business like manner. The public hardly know a change has been made, and are disappointed at not having been indulged in a proclamation.-His first movement was to eject the pay masters from their apartments at headquar ters, where they have been imposing and poards were placed, so that the men passed officers, from the railroad train at Weston intruding on the corps of engineers. Another Proclemation.

Col Jennison has issued the following proclamation to all persons in arms against the government in Jackson, Johnson, Lafavette and Pettis counties;

First-All who are now in arms against above named counties, and who will surrender their arms and ammunition to me, and deliver to me all government property in their possession and under their control, within reasouable time, and shall sign a deed of forfeiture, and shall hereafter perform their duty as good citizens, shall not be responsible for past acts of rebellion, but shall be protected in their lives and property.

Second-Arms which are thus surrendered to me shall be stored and taken account of, so that when the present difficulties are settled, the owners thereof can ob-

Third-Persons who shall surrender themselves to me, in order to make arrangements for securing peace to their neighborhoods, shall be respected in their rights while arranging or attempting to arrange any terms, and shall be allowed to return to their homes, even should they, after a conference, fail to come to arrangements or understanding.

Fourth—All who shall neglect these terms, or continue in armed rebellion against the government of the United States, shall be treated as traitors and slain wherever found. Their property shall be confiscated, their homes burned, and in no case spared either in persons or property.

The deed of forfeiture accompanying these propositions, convey all real and personal property, including present and future acquisition, into the hands of the governsent; the property to be used for the enefit of the government. In case of rebellion all loyal citizens are equired to enroll themselves into a home guard, holding themselves amenable to the military authority of the United States, and of the state of Missouri, pledging their atmost exertions to maintain its authority against all hostile combinations.

COL. DORAN'S IRISH BRIGADE .- We pub lish a notice in relation to this brigade, and are gratified to hear that it is filling up fast with the right kind of material, and that Col. D. expects to go into eamp immediately. It is a very favorable opportunity for our Irish citizens to culist under officers and a chaplain of their own nationality. See the notice in another column.

CONTRABANDS IN PHILADELPHIA .- A diapatch from Philadelphia says that 37 " contrabands" arrived in that city during one night recently, having walked northward from Accomac county, on the peninsula, Virginia. They were supplied with money of mind, are sitting beneath a large red by the Wisconsin troops. A number of these people are constantly arriving, which has stimulated a public meeting to be held to agaist them. AN ATTRACTIVE LECTURE.-We learn that the Rev. Mr. Helmer, pastor of the Plymouth church, Milwaukee, has consent ed to deliver in this city, next. Monday evening, a lecture heretotore given in Beloit. Kenosha, and perhaps other places. This lecture has the unique title of " Masculine, Feminine and Neuter," and it is said to be a production of unusual originality and merit, while Mr. H. has all the graces of a finished orator. The place for the delivery of the lecture will be announced here-

A New Arrangement.

On the 1st of next January a change will be made in the proprietorship of the Gazette Office by the withdrawal of Mr. Bowen. This change will render absolutely necessary a settlement of the subscriptions and other accounts due the present firm. We hope our friends will give this matter their immediate attention, and leave as few debts as possible for settlement after the change is made. It will be easier and better to all concerned to settle before that time, as a settlement must be made.

City and County Orders.

The Third Cavalry.

The Madison Cavalry, Capt. Derry, arrived Wednesday, and were mustered into the United States service by Capt. Lamont, of the regular army, the mustering officer. the berthe will be expanded so as to ac-They were a fine looking body of men. com Capt. Derry is a former officer in the Queen's Life Guard, the finest body of cavalry in the world, is an accomplished swordsman and makes a fine appearing officer. Lieut. Welch, the ex-sheriff of Dane county, is known by everybody, and it is useless to say anything in his praise, for that is on everybody's tongue. The second lieutenant is James Campbell, an old citizen of Madison, who has left a flourishing business to take part in "the big wars that make embition virtue." He is an excellent officer.

The Janesville Cavalry was mustered in the same day. This company was raised by Capt. Justin. They are a first rate lot of men, and will do credit to themselves and make good soldiers.

Yesterday the Monroe County Cavalry came in. They were met at the depot and escorted down town by Capt. Derry's and Justin's companies. This company mustered 105 men, as good as ever straddled a horse. They came well supplied with blankets, comforters and bed clothes, and showed a good proficiency in drill. They are officered as follows: Captain, J. D. Damman; 1st Lieut., R. Carpenter; 2d Lieut., L. Molley.

The companies, as fast as they arrive, the Hyatt House. They are very comfortable blankets having been received and straw being cheap.

A fine company, fully uniformed, has been tendered from St. Paul. It is commanded by Capt. A. C. Brackett, an experienced officer. Col. Barstow, while desir- Gazette - 2a Crosse Dem. ous of filling up with Wisconsin men only, liked the handsome style in which the Minnesota company was offered, and accepted thum at once. The Green Lake Cavalry, Capt. Stevens, is expected here next Tuesday. They have a tame eagle, captured by Lieut. Pond, formerly editor of the Markesan Journal .-The bird measures six feet three inches from tip to tip, and is a noble specimen. The colonel has agreed to furnish a horse, with officer's equipments, and a stately perch for the accommodation of the eagle.

Companies will be daily arriving till the regiment is full. Two lots of horses have come in and are being inspected. The board of inspectors consists of William P. Burroughs of this city, Charley Rice of Milwaukee, and Andrew Bishop of Madison. The uniforms are obtained directly from the United States, and have been shipped from Philadelphia. They will be here in a day or two.

The regimental officers thus far appointed, are as follows:

Colonel, William A. Barstow. First Major, Elias A. Calkins. Second Major, B. S. Henning. Quartermaster, A. W. Earr.

SHERIFF IN A FIX .- On Tuesday of .this week, while the grand jury was in session in this city, one of the jurymen being late in his attendance on the morning session, was " presented " by one of his associates, and baving no satisfactory excuse for his tardiness, was fined a bushel of apples .-The next morning while on his way to the jury room with the apples in a bag on his friends. shoulder, he was met by Sheriff Putnam, violently assaulted by that officer, and a part of the contents of the bag taken from him. Here was a new case for the action of the jury, and "a bill" was found against the sheriff, who was doly summoned before the august tribunal. A plea of guilty was entered, and a fine of a bushel of pippins imposed. The offender appealed to the mercy of the body before whom he was arraigned, and a commutation of sentence grauted, reducing the fine one-half, under a promise to refrain from a repetition of his offence during the remainder of his term of office. The whole proceedings were conducted with the utmost solemnity by the dignified foreman, and the fact of a peaceful termination of the affair was owing to the absence of any lawyer on the jury to raise a question on the constitutional power of the self-constituted court, and legality of case with his wisdom. BUFPALO ROBE LOST .- A buffalo robe, lined with drugget, was lost Wednesday evening between the deput and the residence of Hamilton Richardson. The finder will be rewarded by leaving it at the store of R. J. Richardson,

To Our Debtors.

It will be seen by a notice in another column, that on the first of January next there will be a change in the proprietorship of the Gozette. The NECESSITY of a settlement of ALL our accounts will be apparent to all who will give the subject their attention, and as our own convenience will be materially promoted by a settlement before the dissolution of the partnership, and the interest of no debtor will be injured by doing in season what must come at last, we bope there will be no request or attempt at delay. Mr. Wilcox will devote his time to this matter, and as there are a large number of persons to settle with, let each one be prepared when called on. No one will be turned out of the office if he calls here for that purpose.

THE above are First Clars, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and nonrable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of gante, as the experience of the past teaches, to become rainfold, bains, and the stocks, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-rided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal paironage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutuai Companies, and a certainty given instead of an emercratinty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

TTHE want of an authentic and thorough History of

THE want of an autheatic and therough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the Stoan as 17 18, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their caucit order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compliation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected undinteresting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at far as possible the errors and discrepances in the far to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme--at once graphic, agnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a memorial of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every library: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.
